

GUTSY

Pitching

It's time to take control of the conversation

Gutsy Pitching is a short-term development program that guides and supports professionals to build their confidence and capability when presenting and pitching. You'll quickly learn how to deliver professional communications to audiences that are face to face or across virtual media.

Look more professional, confident and persuasive when pitching, presenting your vision, strategy or change messages.

Quickly structure and detail three-dimensional leadership communications using our unique framework and learn the art of engaging and influencing relevant stakeholders. It's not all about what you say though. In this program you'll also develop the physical leadership skills to connect with any audience, to display a commanding presence and to compel the hearts and minds of your audience

Program nuts and bolts

- Gutsy presentations: Context, strategy and structure.
- Gutsy Presentations: Critique and coaching
- Physical delivery tactics
- Putting it all together
- One on one guidance sessions

The Gutsy Pitching program was fantastic. The theory was helpful to reframe how I thought about pitching, and the practice sessions were fantastic at helping me to refine the art of pitching. The masterclass helped me to notice ways to improve all the small elements from the way I spoke, to my presence in the room. Really worthwhile.
